WELCOME!

I am so pleased to have the opportunity to be your teacher this year for Individuals & Societies! The purpose of these procedures is to ensure that we are ALL clear about what is expected in the classroom to minimize misunderstanding and maximize learning (because that's why we're here, right?).

THIS DOCUMENT WILL BE KEPT IN THE SOCIAL STUDIES NOTEBOOK ALL YEAR IN A PAGE PROTECTOR TO BE USED FOR REFERENCE.

DAILY PROCEDURES

In order for our classroom to operate effectively and orderly, we must follow these procedures. Please read these procedures so that you'll know what is expected of you.

- Enter the classroom in an orderly manner, take your seat, take out materials (notebook, pen/pencil, composition book, etc.), and begin the warm-up. and agenda
- All work must be completed in pencil or blue/black ink to be accepted.
- PLEASE WRITE LEGIBLY—If I can't read it, then I can't grade it.
- If you finish your work early—READ, ORGANIZE YOUR NOTEBOOK, or get CLARIFICATION on assignments. Please have a book with you at all times.
- Keep the classroom neat and orderly—pick up around your area as you leave.

Any work not turned in when collected by teacher should be placed in the BOX/BASKET.

If a student is present when the work was assigned, the assignment must be turned in on the due date.

Students may only turn in one late assignment per grading period with parent notification to the teacher. The highest grade possible on the assignment is a 70.

CLASS WORK/HOMEWORK

Students are expected to actively participate in ALL class work, homework, projects, and tests. I have high expectations! ALL of your work should show that you are doing the BEST that you can do!!!

With some exceptions, homework is assigned Monday-Thursday. This includes reviewing the day's lessons and assignments or studying vocabulary—THIS IS HOMEWORK! Students should be writing their homework assignments in their agenda each day. Please check the team website for current information on assignments. If a test is scheduled for the following week, students are encouraged to look over the material during the weekend.

GRADING

All work will be reviewed and graded in some manner. Our focus is placed on depth of knowledge and the ability of students to show what they know. Classwork and homework (formative) will count for 40% of the final grade and Projects/Tests/Quizzes (summative) will count as 60% of the final grade.

Parents can view student grades using POWER SCHOOL: PARENT ACCESS which can be reached through the district website <http://sccpss.com> under the Family tab.
